

COMMUNITY FORKLIFT

2024 COMMUNITY BUILDING BLOCKS PROGRAM FACTSHEET

Community Forklift provides free materials to community groups for local projects through our Community Building Blocks Program (CBB). Here's an overview of what we accomplished in 2024.

Non-profit Emma's Torch provides culinary training to refugees and helps them find meaningful careers in the food industry. Community Forklift provided free building materials and appliances for the build out of their new café in Washington, DC.

"The Community Forklift staff was very helpful and invested in seeing our project to fruition. As a 501(c)3 that lost half its funding over the past couple years, receiving the CBB grant made a project that was financially unachievable come to life."

— Stephanie Powell, PTA President at Rolling Terrace Elementary School, which built an outdoor classroom using a grant of free materials from Community Forklift's Community Building Blocks program.
